To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to recommend Stratatomic, LLC for creative marketing strategies, website development, logo creation, graphic art, and probably anything else Ryan Owens and his company put their talents to. I am a current client, and am both very impressed and extremely satisfied with everything this fine organization has done for us.

One of our companies is a new restaurant chain called Copper River Grill. Ryan has been with us from the very beginning, and has been involved in all aspects of branding our business. Stratatomic was instrumental in creating our logo, menu design and layout, and the design of all of our printed materials, resulting in a strong image and consistent message to the public.

Stratatomic also developed our website, which has been a great recruiting tool, and for which we have received many compliments. Ryan is extremely creative, and can always come up with a catchy print ad or new marketing idea when asked. It seems he never runs out of new, clever ideas to help us promote our business.

Sometimes referred to a perfectionist (or worse), I suspect I am not always the easiest client to work with. I must say that Ryan has done an outstanding job balancing professionalism, flexibility and tenacity while working with us in order to ultimately achieve the best end result.

Ryan Owens and his team at Stratatomic are clearly the most creative and effective designers and marketing people I have ever worked with. If I may answer any other questions, please email me at Dan@CopperRiverGrill.com.
